About the Producer: An underground cellar carved below the vineyard

At the foot of the Sierra de Cantabria is the medieval village of Laguardia, a privileged place valued by the farmers since the Neolithic times for its unique climate and geological conditions.

Color: Maroon cherry colour. Dense tear.

Aroma: In the nose, it is a very complex wine, with a medium-high intensity, ripe fruit aromas and aromatic herbs. It expresses minerality.

Taste: In the mouth, it is tasty, appetizing and well-balanced. Wine with a long finish that leaves a very ripe fruit taste together with balsamic and spiced touches after tasting it. Elegant, well-structured and complex red wine, from the new generation of Rioja wines.

Alcohol: 14,5 %

Goes Well With: 🍷 🐷 🐮 🐔

Aging: Aged 16 months in new Bordelaise barrels of French oak.
